STRIKES AND RIOTS

Are the Sole Subject of Conversation
Among Politicians and People at Washington.

A PITIABLE SIGHT.
Coxey Men Had a Terrible Time at First.

WASHINGTON, May 10.—[Special.]—All the talk is of strikes and riots, of the results of the Coxey invasion and the question whether any more of the same sort will get here. No other city in this country and probably none in the world feels so secure against any danger from labor riots, railroad troubles or anything of the sort as does this. The general confidence in the government felt by the people of this city is really sublime. So all the gayeties of the season go on just as if nothing were the matter, and yet it is plain that the people are sufficiently stirred up to take very decided action in several directions. The workmen have notified their various organizations that it is sheer nonsense for any of the unemployed to come here at present and have urged the various brotherhoods not to countenance any such movements, and apparently with some success. All sorts of influences have been brought to bear upon railroad officials to have them discourage movements in this direction, and it is charged that the refusal of the railway officials in Iowa and beyond to transport the industrialists at cheap rates was prompted by official action here. The general talk has been since Coxey arrived that if the railroads and state authorities would act in concert the foolishness might be stopped where it now is.

A Pitiable Spectacle.
At the same time the Populist members of congress have exerted themselves to relieve the sufferings of the Coxeyites, but have been utterly unsuccessful. The sufferings of Coxey's men during their first four days in this city were really great, and their camp, about a mile south southeast of the capitol, was at once a disgusting and pitiable spectacle. Originally a stagnant bog, it had been filled in by the dumping of city refuse and down to the very day of its occupation was used as a garbage lot. Of course that portion of Coxey's men who were, as they said, "in it for fun" soon deserted and got away from there, but the character of the others was shown by the dumb and hopeless way in which they lay around on this miserable spot, hoping for they knew not what, breathing the foulest of air and awaiting the result with the helpless apathy of Aesop's. But the health authorities soon hurried them away.

Silver Prospects.
Among politicians there is of course the usual amount of talk that "the other fellows are altogether to blame for it," but on one point nearly all are in nearly unanimous agreement—that there has been altogether too much immigration. And the opponents of the Chinese treaty are working this feeling for all it is worth and creating quite a sentiment against it in the house. Several members agree that if it were not for the looks of the thing, or if there were any fair way to get at it, an act forbidding all immigration for seven years could be passed through both houses by a large majority. By some strange law of mind the silver men have also renewed their activity on the strength of the riots and strikes. Messrs. Bland and Stewart have almost formed a little congress of their own, and ignoring such trifles as the tariff, river and harbor bill and the like devoted their energies to organizing a new attack on the goldbugs. The Republican senators and such Democrats as agree with them have much to say about the bimetallic conference in London and urge that all we need do is to keep on as we are for a few months, and the older nations will be forced to join us in remonetizing silver at an international ratio.

Hon. Elijah Voorhes of Brookshire of Indiana wants to simplify the money and surely it needs it. His bill to that effect now being considered by the banking and currency committee provides for retiring all greenbacks and national bank notes of less denomination than $10 and supplying their place with coin certificates. It has the provision that all the results of which would be to make the coin certificate the unit of our currency, but the chances are that the bill came in rather too late to have much of a show in this congress.

The Loves and Fishes.
A member who is on rather intimate terms with the committee on coinage ought to know says that within two days after the recent election of a Democratic congressman in the Dayton (O.) district the president received 150 letters of congratulation, and every one of them contained some kind of a hint, generally pretty strong, that now would be a good time for him to hand out the office lively and encourage the boys. Several of the writers spoke of their own services and sacrifices in the campaign and how much they did in contributing to the result. In short, it would appear that there is enough disengaged talent in that one district to fill the United States, and the president's disposal. From Missouri also political appeals are showering upon members and senators, though not so much as upon the president. It has been proposed that all the Democratic members from that state go home in a body and attend the state convention on the 15th when, as is expected, the Cleveland and anti-Cleveland factions will tear each other in pieces unless restrained. There is no other state, certainly no western state, in which the members have been more outspoken against the president's financial policy. They naturally object to any sweeping endorsement of him which would by implication reflect on them, and will, if necessary, go as a unit to prevent it. In the senate matters appear to have worked around to the old basis—that the tariff bill will have three Democratic votes certain if the income tax feature is retained, and three Populist votes if it is stricken out. Commissioner Carroll D. Wright has come to the aid of the anti with the latest labor and corporation statistics. As showing what that part of the bill providing for attack on associations would do, he points out that there are in the United States 3,338 building and loan associations, that their net assets are over $450,000,000, their profits $80,000,000, and that they have since first established provided over 400,000 homes. The largest number, 1,070, is in Pennsylvania.

TOOK A WRONG VIEW.

A Member of Rev. J. B. Thomas' Church Misunderstands Him.

Last Sunday evening Rev. J. B. Thomas, in his sermon at the First Baptist church, mentioned his trip to New Orleans, from which he had just returned. He told of his going out to the U. S. army barracks and seeing the sharpshooters practice, and said that he thought that if they got after the Coxeyites, they could clean them out in about fifteen minutes.

It seems that one member of his congregation took exceptions to his remarks, as the following letter to him will show:

MONDAY, May 7, 1894.
Rev. J. B. Thomas—Dear Brother: You, as a public leader and teacher, know that the public mind is rapidly crystallizing into new forms. You are aware, also, that it behooves a leading spirit, in making approaches to these alignments, that they be not misunderstood.

In your public utterances last evening you spoke of your recent trip to the south, and on two occasions associated yourself with bankers in New Orleans. This is no phase of a crime, but when you took occasion to speak of the Coxeyites you told how the soldiers there were told to shoot for the heart, and that you were informed that they needed only about fifteen minutes to lay out the Coxeyite crowd. On the whole we were impressed that your sympathies were with aristocracy rather than with the poor.

We can not be like Christ but we can be Christ like. We can be so by following his teaching and presuming on what he would do if with us. Comment is unnecessary. Lazarus and the rich man, yea, Christ's full walk on earth showed the drift of his sympathies.

We hope your next public talk will give us no doubt of your position inasmuch as you have volunteered an appearance.

Your brother in church and humanity.

A. B. SMITH.

Rev. J. B. Thomas was seen today by a STATE JOURNAL reporter and when asked concerning the affair, said:

"My friend seems to have misunderstood me. When I went down to New Orleans, Mr. John R. Mulvane gave me a letter of introduction to one of the leading bankers there. That was how that happened. In regard to the Coxey talk, he seems to have made a big mistake. I went out to see the United States barracks while in New Orleans, and in conversation with the captain, he told me that his men were all trained to shoot at the heart. I told this and merely mentioned that I thought it would take about fifteen minutes to finish up the Coxeyites if they started in to shoot."

Mr. A. B. Smith is a farmer living south of the city. He is a member of Rev. Mr. Thomas' church and is said to be of strong Populist convictions. Anyone that knows Rev. Mr. Thomas, knows that he is a champion of the poor. He devotes almost his entire time to charitable work at the Santa Fe shops and in Parkdale. He has not expressed himself on the Coxey movement.

SANDOW AND A LION

Will Fight in an Arena at the Midwinter Fair.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 10.—All attempts to have a wrestling match between a lion and a bear at the Midwinter fair having failed, arrangements are now being made to have a match between a man, to wrestle with a lion, and "the perfect man," as he claims himself to be, has signed a contract to meet Colonel Boone's big lion "Commodore" in the arena.

The lion will be securely muzzled and his claws will be clipped. Sandow will endeavor to throw or control him by main strength.

State Sunday School Convention at Wichita.

OSAGE CITY, May 10.—The miners of this city agreed in mass meeting to send one delegate from each shaft to the convention which meets in Burlingame today to consider the advisability of suspending work in favor of the United Mine Workers of America.

The following resolutions condemning Governor Lewelling for not enforcing the laws were also adopted:

"Resolved, That we, the miners of Osage City, in mass meeting assembled, do condemn the actions of Gov. L. D. Lewelling in enforcing the following law: Section 28, article 1183, page 375 of general statutes of Kansas for 1889, which reads as follows: 'No corporation created under the provisions of this act shall employ its stocks, means, assets or other property directly or indirectly for any other purpose whatever than to accomplish the legitimate objects of its creation.' And be it further

"Resolved, That we do also condemn the actions of the state penitentiary for increasing the output of coal in 1893 over 1892; while we were battling against the coal combinations, their increased output was strengthening our antagonists while it helped to defeat us, the free miners."

WELLINGTON GETS A BIG PAPER.

The "Northwestern Baptist" to be Removed There This Week.

WELLINGTON, May 10.—Wellington will this week be honored by the establishment of the office and headquarters of the Northwestern Baptist, for many years published at St. Joseph, Mo., and known all over the United States as one of the ablest religious publications in the country.

The Baptist is the Baptist church organ of Missouri, Kansas and Oklahoma, and it will be removed to Wellington as the city offering the best railroad opportunities for prompt and wide spread distribution in its field. The Baptist is now a semi-monthly publication, but will be issued every week after its establishment in this city.

GREAT NUMBERS OF UNEMPLOYED.

Nearly Forty Men For Every Shovel in Leavenworth.

LEAVENWORTH, May 10.—In speaking of the number of men out of employment in this city Street Commissioner Braidwood said to a Standard reporter:

"You have no idea of the number of laboring men out of work. Every morning when I go to the new market house where we keep our tools I find a big crowd of idle men waiting for me. I would rather take a licking than go there. It would be no exaggeration to say nearly every morning there are forty men for each shovel used. I cannot give work to all."

DIED WITH A STRANGE DISEASE.

Lawrence Young Man has a Melody That Baffles Doctors.

LAWRENCE, May 10.—Frank W. Wright a young man of 24, died here Tuesday of a disease that has puzzled all the local physicians. For the last two years the lower limbs below the knee had swollen so that they were as large around as a man's waist.

This increase in size came on gradually, and had continued to increase. The limbs above this were shrunken and withered. The disease resembles that which causes so many deaths in tropical countries, and it is thought the young man may have contracted it while away about two years ago.

DON'T WANT MRS. LEASE.
That Is What Mr. Calhoun Says About Her Congressional Room.

"I think that Mrs. Lease would not be a strong candidate for congress in the Seventh district," said Hon. M. A. Calhoun, a prominent Populist and attorney of Garden City today. "She would not be opposed because she is a woman, but because she is too radical. It is true that she is a good campaigner, but she talks too much, and I do not think she will be nominated. If Simpson is not able to enter the race, and it now seems that he will not be, we will be somewhat at sea for a candidate."

"As far as Chester L. Long is concerned, I do not think that he will be nearly so strong as he was two years ago, and we shall beat him easily."

Deafness Cannot be Cured.
by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure Deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.
